Marchant Real Estate Donates To Harvest Hope Food Bank

Greenville, SC – Marchant Real Estate, with over 25 years of serving the Greater Greenville community, supports and seeks ways to give back to the Upstate. On April 20th, Marchant Real Estate partnered with Harvest Hope Food Bank to spearhead a food drive among Marchant Real Estate agents. While abiding by social distance protocols, Marchant Real Estate agents dropped off non-perishable items to be picked up by Harvest Hope Food Bank.

Harvest Hope is South Carolina's largest food bank, providing over 50,000 meals a week to neighbors in need across the Midlands, Pee Dee and Upstate. Harvest Hope Food Bank obtains nutritious food from stores throughout the state and distributes it to food pantries, shelters, and soup kitchens. Their programs provide food for the community's most vulnerable citizens – children, seniors, and rural residents who don't have access to grocery stores. Seabrook Marchant, founder and President of Marchant Real Estate, announced the call to action to donate when he was informed of Harvest Hope's critical need for community support. "Service isn't just a value, it's who we are. Our philanthropy represents our love for our neighbors, our community, and our country," Seabrook stated when discussing Marchant Real Estate's principles of philanthropy and giving.

In light of COVID-19 and the stay-at-home mandates, Harvest Hope Food Bank continues to look to the community to help with the critical need for donations. In March, the nonprofit served more than 5,000 individuals in its emergency food pantry curbside service. Wendy Broderick, CEO of Harvest Hope Food Bank, expressed how community members' help is needed and appreciated, "We are seeing record numbers of individuals coming to our emergency food pantry looking for help. We are doing our best to try and be sure none of our neighbors go hungry during this crisis." Marchant Real Estate is continuing to urge others to donate to Harvest Hope Food Bank.

About Harvest Hope Food Bank

Harvest Hope began in 1981 as the result of a shared vision of business leaders and the faith community, who set out to provide for the hungry in Columbia. Since then, Harvest Hope has increased its mission to feed the hungry across 20 counties in South Carolina.

Harvest Hope is on a mission to eliminate hunger and food insecurity in South Carolina. They rescue nutritious food from stores throughout the state and distribute it to food pantries, shelters, and soup kitchens. Harvest Hope operates programs that provide food for our most vulnerable citizens – children, seniors, and rural residents who don't have access to grocery stores. In addition, they also run emergency food pantries in Greenville and Columbia where anyone in need can get a week's supply of groceries for free.
